- Changing old batteries

Your Defender Luna is powered by 2 x CR2032 cell batteries with a low battery indicator built in. When you hear a constant beeping, it means batteries are low and need changing.

With the front-side facing up, place your right finger in the ring-pull and your left hand around the alarm body; gently twist the ring-pull away from you until the alarm body opens, then immediately separate the two sides.

After checking the pin is securely inserted into the front side, clip the alarm body back together to finish.
